

On behalf of the Martin and St. Lucie Metropolitan Planning Organizations, you are invited to a series of community workshops in conjunction with the Regional Long Range Transportation Planning process. In the summer and fall of 2005, citizens, elected officials and community stakeholders gathered to find out preferences on how and where the region should grow. From these discussions, a series of regional goals, alternative growth scenarios and transportation strategies have been developed.

This summer, two rounds of workshops have been planned. The first series took place in July and focused on exploring the tradeoffs between the alternative growth scenarios. The second series of workshops is focusing on refinement and implementation of the preferred alternative. Please join us to help plan for the region's transportation future.
